

The process of cultural change

According to the Encyclopedia of social sciences, Creolisation is defined as a process of cultural change, initially in the context of slavery and colonialism.

A plural society and acculturation: the essence of Creolisation.

the video below looks at the definition of creolisation

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rjQ6cRVqpy0&feature=emb_logo

<https://www.slideshare.net/tishelletobias/hybridization-caribbean-studies-presentation?ref=https://notesmaster.com/en/group/caribbean/1556-cape-covid19-support/24537-crealization-and-hybridization>

the above slide share , looks at the key aspects of hybridization and creolisation

Add a link to a quiz here for some interactivity: Click here to learn more

<https://www.instructionaldesign.org/>