

Internet sources

Internet sources gives a wealth of information that is often time relatively easy to access , once you have , computer , a tablet or even a smart phone . However internet sources must be used very cautiously as the nature of the internet makes it easy for anyone to publish a piece of information on the internet . Despite the challenges, sources on the internet can be deemed as credible especially if they are the official website of sources such as a newspaper or a television station. Examples of these are Click Here and Here .
